MEDIA INFORMATION

Welcome.

The Philadelphia 76ers would like to welcome all members of the media to the 2002-2003 season, our seventh season in the First Union Center and our 40th in the City of Brotherly Love. We ask you to please read this section carefully and thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation.

KAREN FRASCONA
Senior Director, Communications

BRIAN KIRSCHNER
Manager, Communications

CHRIS WALLACE

DONNA KATZMAN
Coordinator, Communications

CREDENTIALS: Appropriate credentials are required for access to the First Union Center and should be kept visible at all times. Season passes are issued to those media members who regularly cover the Sixers. Media members wishing to cover a single game must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Communications staff at least 24 hours prior to the intended game. Passes are issued on a space-available basis for all single-game requests. First-time requests must be in written form on company letterhead and received by mail, or by fax at (215) 339-7632. Credentials will be left at the Press Entrance (located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level) and can be picked up two hours prior to tip-off on game nights.

ENTRANCE: Media members attending a Sixers game at the First Union Center should enter the building through the Press Entrance, located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level.

PARKING: Parking passes are issued prior to the season to those media members who regularly cover the team. Media members wishing to cover a single game, and requiring parking, must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Communications staff at least 48 hours prior to game day. Media members attending Sixers games should park in Lot F, located between the First Union Center and the First Union Spectrum, along the 11th Street side.

PRESS ROOM: The press room is located at the Northeast corner of the Event Floor Level. Appropriate credentials are required for press room access. The press room consists of a dining facility and a working press area. Food, game notes, press kits, storage space and working space are available to the media in the press lounge during the course of an event. Food and beverages are served two hours before tip-off time. Refreshments are available during the game. A nominal fee of $5.00 is charged for a pre-game meal.

SEATING: Home and visiting television and radio will be seated at courtside. All other media will be assigned seats on the baseline on a space-available basis.

STILL & VIDEO PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photo work space is limited and your cooperation is appreciated. Still and video photographers are limited to the baselines at each end of the court. In accordance with the NBA policy, no hard-back chairs are permitted courtside and all photographers must keep clear of the escape lanes on both sides of the basket stanchions. Rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers who are credentialed to shoot a 76ers game.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS: The locker rooms are located on the west side (Broad Street) of the Event Level (Level One). In accordance with NBA policy, the 76ers locker room will be open one and a half hours prior and close 45 minutes prior to tip-off. Following a ten-minute cooling off period, the locker room will open after the game has been completed. Only credentialed media are allowed in the locker room and no autographs are permitted. All media members are asked to have their passes visible at all times while in the First Union Center.

GAME NOTES AND STATS: Game notes for both teams will be available in the press room two hours prior to tip-off. For visiting media, game notes, credentials, programs and recent clips will be delivered to their hotel as early as possible upon arrival in Philadelphia. Play-by-play, quarterly boxes, halftime boxes, final notes and quotes will be delivered to all media locations as quickly as possible. Stat monitors are available along press row as well as in the press room.

INFORMATION HOTLINE: Media members can access the latest information on the 76ers 24 hours a day through a special automated hotline. The menu of options will include: team news, injury updates, and practice and shootaround times. Please contact the 76ers Communications office for the hotline number.

PRACTICES & SHOOTAROUNDS: Sixers practices and gameday shootarounds are held at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine (PCOM) on Route 1 (4190 City Avenue) in Philadelphia. Parking is available in the garage across from the practice facility and in the parking lot across the street behind the facility. Please call the Sixers Media Hotline for practice and shootaround times.

TELEPHONES: The Sixers have a limited number of telephones available to working press members on press row. Additional requests for telephone lines should be directed to the First Union Center Operations Department at (215) 389-9490.

COMCAST-SPECTACOR INFORMATION

Comcast-Spectacor is the Philadelphia-based sports and entertainment firm, which owns the Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League, the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association, the Philadelphia Phantoms of the American Hockey League, Flyers Skate Zone, a series of community skating rinks designed to promote skating and hockey the Philadelphia-region, the Bowie Baysox, the Delmarva Shorebirds, the Frederick Keys baseball teams, all affiliates of the Baltimore Orioles, the First Union Center and First Union Spectrum and Comcast SportsNet, a regional 24-hour sports programming network.

Comcast-Spectacor has established itself as a leader in the sports management industry, providing high quality sports and entertainment, as well as two tremendous sports and entertainment facilities, to millions of fans across the country.

Comcast-Spectacor is the principal owner of Global Spectrum, which manages and operates public assembly facilities and events worldwide, including the Liacouras Center at Temple University and the Sovereign Bank Arena in Trenton, N.J. as well as 30 other facilities. Comcast-Spectacor also owns Ovations Food Services, which provides food and beverage services to all three of its baseball teams, as well as to arenas, stadiums, amphitheatres, and convention centers throughout the country.

Comcast-Spectacor provides a unique and excellent opportunity for its teams, as well as its facilities, to utilize the relationships in the Comcast Family of Companies, including Comcast Cable, CN8, Comcast@Home, E! Entertainment Television and QVC, to increase market visibility.

Comcast-Spectacor's parent company, Comcast Corporation (www.comcast.com) is principally involved in the development, management and operation of broadband cable networks, and in the provision of electronic commerce and programming content. Comcast Cable is the third largest cable company in the United States serving more than 8.5 million cable subscribers. Comcast's commerce and content businesses include majority ownership of QVC, Comcast-Spectacor, Comcast SportsNet, The Golf Channel, Outdoor Life Network, G4, a controlling interest in E! Networks, and other programming investments. Comcast's Class A Special and Class A Common Stock are traded on The Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbols CMCSK and CMCSA, respectively.

RADIO AND BROADCASTING INFORMATION

RADIO COVERAGE

TOM McGINNIS
Radio Broadcaster

Sixers fans will be able to catch all the Sixers action on the radio in 2002-03, as Tom McGinnis returns for his eighth season as Voice of the Sixers. McGinnis, who hosts pregame, halftime and postgame shows for every game, can be heard on the 76ers Radio Network. The network is comprised of seven stations across the tri-state area, including WIP Radio (610 AM) in Philadelphia. The popular all-sports station will once again serve as the Sixers flagship station.

TOM McGINNIS

Tom McGinnis begins his eighth season as the voice of the Sixers Radio Network. In addition to handling all the play-by-play duties, he also serves as the 76ers Director of Radio Broadcasting. His responsibilities include overseeing the team's radio network, serving as a team spokesman at various events and assisting with community relations efforts including the successful Summer Hoops Tour.

McGinnis, who grew up in Spring Valley, Ill., received a degree in Broadcast Journalism from Northern Illinois University in 1984. Also, he played point guard his first two years in college at Benedictine University in Lisle, Ill. McGinnis' broadcasting background includes seven years of local television experience, four years of play-by-play in the CBA and two years calling professional hockey games. He moved to Philadelphia from Cleveland, Ohio in the summer of 1995. McGinnis and his wife, KYW-TV anchor Robin Rieger, reside in suburban Philadelphia.

MARC ZUMOFF
TV Broadcaster

STEVE MIX
TV Color Analyst

With Emmy-Award winning Marc Zumoff handling the play-by-play duties and former NBA All-Star Steve Mix behind the microphone as color analyst for their ninth season together, fans will once again receive top-notch local coverage of the Sixers this season. Comcast SportsNet and WPSG (UPN 57) will combine to telecast 72 regular-season Sixers contests in the Philadelphia area. On a national level, the Sixers will also be prominent, appearing six times on WPVI, seven times on ESPN, three times on ESPN2 and eight times on Turner Sports.

This season, along with the 76ers, Comcast SportsNet will broadcast over 300 live professional and amateur sports events including Flyers, Phillies and Phantoms games. Comcast SportsNet combines action packed play-by-play coverage along with insightful sports news and talk programming to form the best regional sports network in the country.

For the sixth-consecutive season, the Sixers have teamed up with WPSG UPN 57. This year, UPN 57 will air an eight-game television slate. The Sixers have formed an outstanding partnership with the flagship station of the Paramount Stations Group, which began broadcasting Sixers games in 1996-97 after a five-year hiatus.

In addition to the outstanding on air personalities, the Sixers broadcast team also has exceptional behind the scenes the talent. Producer Shawn Oleksiak returns for his ninth season leading 76ers broadcasts. The five-time Mid-Atlantic Emmy Award winner had been nominated for an Emmy in each of his first eight seasons. Oleksiak also serves on the NBA broadcast advisory committee.

TELEVISION COVERAGE

MARC ZUMOFF

Emmy-Award winning Marc Zumoff returns for his ninth season as the Sixers play-by-play announcer and his 21st as a part of the 76ers broadcast team. Zumoff, a Philadelphia native, was named play-by-play announcer on Aug. 17, 1994. He has won an Emmy for best sports play-by-play broadcaster seven of the past 10 years.

Zumoff has done play-by-play and sideline reporting for Turner Sports' coverage of the NBA, including both regular season and playoff games, as well as the network's coverage of the 1997 Goodwill Games. Zumoff also did play-by-play for NBA-TV'S coverage of the FIBA World Championships this past summer from Indianapolis. In addition, he is one of the play-by-play announcers for CN8's coverage of college football.

Prior to joining the Sixers broadcast team full time, Zumoff was a part of the now-defunct Prism Sports Network. He has done play-by-play for a variety of events and teams in the region including, the Philadelphia Flyers, the Philadelphia Big Five, Villanova and Princeton University football and basketball, and the Philadelphia Fever of the Major Indoor Soccer League.

Following his graduation from Temple University, Zumoff worked his way into the play-by-play spot for the Philadelphia Fever which helped lead to his break with Prism. During his days at Temple, Zumoff announced Owl football and basketball games which was followed by a brief stint in 1977 at WBUD Radio in Trenton, NJ.

Zumoff, who spends his summers hosting the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour, lives in suburban Philadelphia with his wife Debbie and their two sons Jake (13) and Pace (9).

STEVE MIX

Steve Mix returns for his 16th season with the 76ers and ninth as the full-time color analyst, providing insight to the game that only a former player can provide.

Mix, a former 76ers forward and NBA All-Star, played 13 seasons in the NBA and ABA from 1969 to 1983. He logged time in 787 games where he scored 8,355 points for an average of 10.6 points per game. In his nine seasons with Philadelphia (1973 to 1982), Mix played on three teams that advanced to the NBA Finals (1977, 1980 and 1982). He holds the 76ers single-season steals record of 212 set in 1973-74 and finished fourth all-time in career steals (851). He also went to the NBA Finals with the LA Lakers in 1983 where he finished his playing career.

Mix joined the Sixers broadcast team in 1987-88 analyzing road games on WPHL TV-17. However, he can lay claim to starting his broadcasting career in 1975 when after breaking his ankle in the second half of the season, he joined the legendary Bill Campbell for the radio broadcasts, finishing out the season behind the mic. After his playing career was completed, Mix began doing analysis for the University of Toledo basketball team on WSPD TV-13 and then for the Detroit Pistons on WKBD TV-50.

A native of Toledo, Ohio, Mix played four seasons for the University of Toledo. Mix and his wife Maryalice have four children, Derrick (31), Stephanie (24), Courtney (20), and Andrew (18).

SIXERS JAM

The Emmy-award nominated magazine show "Sixers Jam" most typifies the organizations theme "Your Sixers, Our Community" which captures the club's affection for its fan base and is constantly conveyed in the half-hour show. Hosted by the award winning 76ers TV voice Marc Zumoff with special features from radio voice Tom McGinnis, this program features the most complete on-court analysis of Sixers games and the most up-close off court look at the team's players and coaches, and their impact on the community.

2002-03 SIXERS JAM SCHEDULE

The Sixers Jam show on Comcast SportsNet will air live, leading in to live coverage of a Sixers games on CSN.

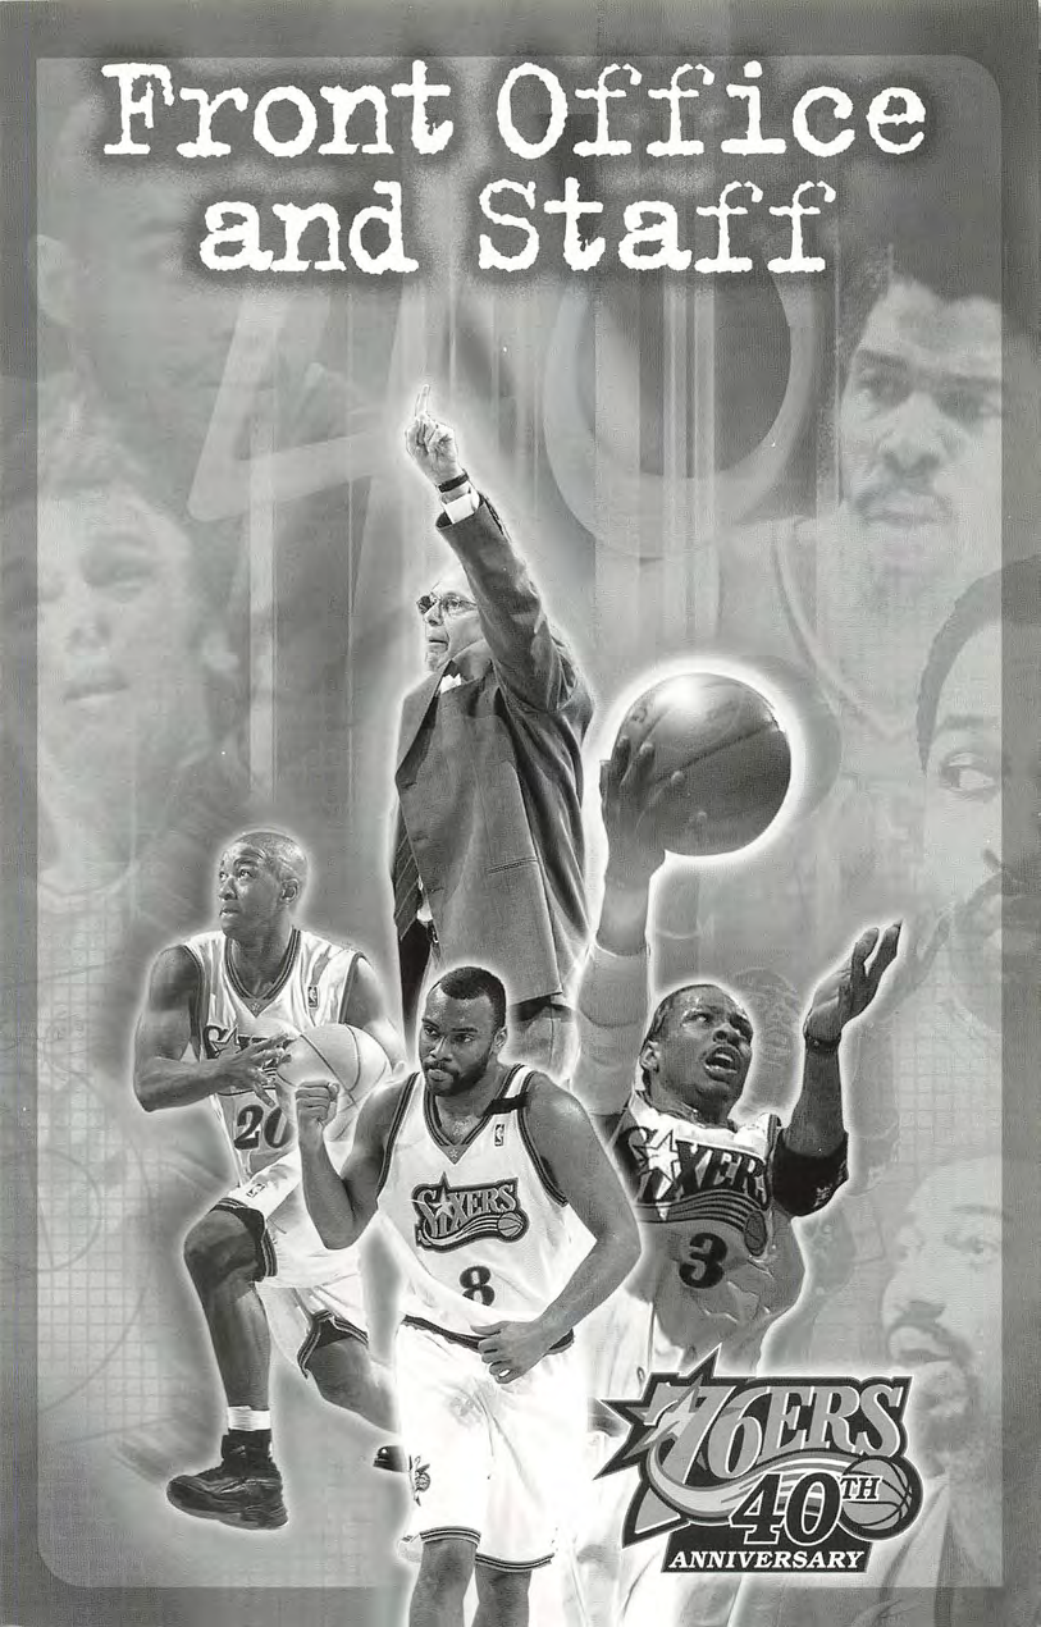
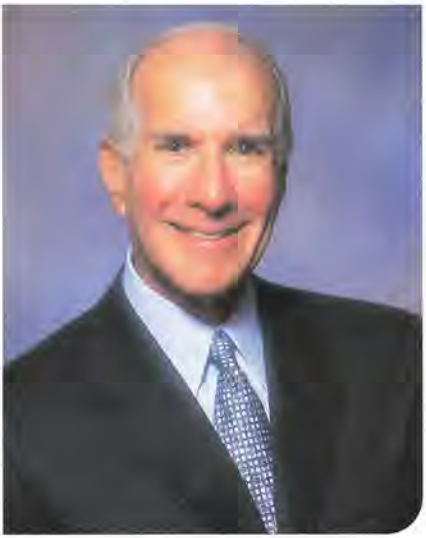
Front Office and Staff



COMCAST-SPECTACOR

ED SNIDER

CHAIRMAN



Ed Snider is one of the true giants of the sports and entertainment industry. His career has been guided by the principle that one must be constantly moving forward in order to succeed, and it's that philosophy that marks his leadership of Comcast-Spectacor today.

Ed first emerged as a leader in Philadelphia's sports business in 1966 when he founded the Philadelphia Flyers. He was the driving force behind the building of the Spectrum, and assumed control of the building in 1971. In 1974, Ed created Spectacor as a management company to oversee the Flyers and Spectrum. Over the next 20 years, Spectacor grew to be a national force in sports and entertainment. Under Ed's guidance, Spectacor started or acquired nearly a dozen businesses over the 20-year period 1974-1994. Many of these enterprises were sold at a time when each was the industry leader in its field.

Perhaps nothing demonstrates Ed's perseverance and desire to succeed like the development of the First Union Center, a $210 million state-of-the-art arena completed in 1996. In the summer of 2000, the facility gained national prominence as the host facility for the Republican National Convention. Today, the First Union Center and the First Union Spectrum comprise the most active sports and entertainment complex in the world.

In 1996, Ed merged Spectacor into Comcast Corporation, creating Comcast-Spectacor. The new venture initially consisted of the Philadelphia Flyers, Philadelphia 76ers, First Union Center, First Union Spectrum, and Philadelphia Phantoms. Comcast-Spectacor then joined with the Philadelphia Phillies to form Comcast SportsNet, one of the highest rated regional sports networks in the country.

In the past two years, Comcast-Spectacor has developed the Flyers Skate Zone, a series of regional ice skating rinks; Global Spectrum, an international facilities management company; Ovations Food Services, a national concessions company and three minor league baseball teams, all of which are affiliates of the Baltimore Orioles. These entities all represent components of Ed's vision: take what you do well and grow it.

Ed's successes have been recognized by his peers. He was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1988 and serves on the NHL's Executive Committee. He is a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States and has been elected to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame and the Flyers Hall of Fame.

In February of 2001, Ed received Temple University's First Annual Sports Leadership Award presented by The Fox School of Business and Management. In May 1999, he was selected by Philadelphia Daily News readers as Philly's Greatest mover and shaker of the millennium in mail-in and online balloting. In December 1999, he received the Anti-Defamation League's prestigious Americanism Award. In 1985, Ed received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from MCP Hahnemann University and in May of 1999, he received the same from Thomas Jefferson Hospital. He is also a Benefactor and Advisory Board Member of the Sol C. Snider Entrepreneurial Center of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Other Board memberships include Board of Overseers of the Wharton School, the Isadore Brodsky Institute for Cancer and Blood Diseases at MCP Hahnemann University, Institute for The Objectivist Center, and the Simon Wiesenthal Center.

Ed resides in suburban Philadelphia. His children include daughters Lindy, Tina, and Sarena and sons Craig, Jay, and Samuel as well as 13 grandchildren.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

LARRY BROWN

HEAD COACH / VICE PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

While Larry Brown has carved his own special niche in 76ers history in only five short seasons, it was his 30-year "body of work" as a college and professional head coach that earned him enshrinement into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2002. Brown's resume includes three ABA Coach of the Year awards, the 2001 NBA Coach of the Year honor, a trip to the 2001 NBA Finals and a 1988 NCAA championship.

Brown, who has posted a winning record in 26 of his 30 seasons as a professional head coach or collegiate head coach, has compiled a 1,237-819 (.602) career record. In his 19 seasons in the NBA, he has an 831-651 (.561) record. He enters the 2002-03 season needing just two victories to move past Cotton Fitzsimmons (832) into eighth place and 34 victories to pass Jack Ramsay (864) in seventh.

After being hired on May 5, 1997, as the 17th head coach in Philadelphia franchise history, Brown recorded his first victory as head coach of the Sixers on Nov. 12, 1997, in Houston. In his first year, he led the Sixers to a nine-win improvement, tying the seventh best single-season improvement in team history and led the franchise to its most victories in six years. In 1998-99, he guided the Sixers to their first winning season since 1990-91 as well as to the NBA Playoffs, becoming the first coach in NBA history to guide six different franchises to the playoffs. He followed that with a second-consecutive playoff appearance in 1999-2000. Brown, who also serves as the 76ers vice president of basketball operations, signed a multi-year contract with the Sixers on March 24, 2000.

2000-01 was a milestone season for Brown and the Sixers, as the team recorded its best year in nearly two decades. Brown led the 76ers to 56 wins, the most for the franchise since 1984-85, and helped tie him for his best NBA winning percentage (San Antonio, 1989-90, .683) as a coach. On April 6, he passed Gene Shue (784) for ninth place on the all-time NBA coaching victory chart. On the same night, the Sixers clinched the Atlantic Division crown for the first time since 1989-90. The next game on April 9, he led Philadelphia to the top spot in the Eastern Conference. Individually, the 2000-01 campaign was certainly one of Brown's best: he was named the NBA's Coach of the Year and made a trip to the NBA Finals, the first such accomplishments in his then 18 years as an NBA coach.

Additional honors for Brown in 2001 included being named the NBA's IBM Coach of the Month for November, his third such honor (February 1994 with Indiana and March 1992 with the LA Clippers). He was the Eastern Conference head coach in the 2001 All-Star Game and guided the East All-Stars to a come-from-behind win, while Allen Iverson was named the game's MVP award. Brown was also selected as a finalist for the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Hustle and defense are trademarks of a Larry Brown-coached team. Traditionally, his teams are unselfish and come to compete every night. In the NBA, he has finished first in his division six times (1976-77 and 1977-78 with Denver; 1989-90 and 1990-91 with San Antonio; 1994-95 with Indiana; and 2000-01 with Philadelphia).

Prior to joining the Sixers, the 61-year-old Brown spent four seasons as head coach of the Indiana Pacers, (1993-97) compiling a record of 190-138 (.579). The Pacers' all-time winningest NBA coach, he took the team to the playoffs three times, including the Eastern Conference Finals twice. Before joining Indiana, Brown was the head coach of the Los Angeles Clippers and San Antonio Spurs. He took the Spurs to the postseason twice (1990 and 1991) and the Clippers twice (1992 and 1993).

Head Coach Larry Brown at his Hall of Fame induction ceremony on Sept. 27, 2002

Brown spent four seasons in the ABA, earning Coach of the Year honors three times. After two seasons with Carolina and five with Denver, including three with the Nuggets' NBA franchise, Brown returned to the college ranks in 1979 as head coach at UCLA. The Bruins went to the national championship game in Brown's first year as coach. After a two-year stint as coach of the New Jersey Nets (1981-83), Brown would spend the next five years as head coach at the University of Kansas, where he won the national championship in 1988.

As a coach, Brown draws on his playing days where he was a member of the 1964 gold medal U.S. Olympic basketball team. In the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia, Brown added another honor to his resume as an assistant coach on the gold medal Team USA. He is the only U.S. male to both play and coach in the Olympics. The three-time ABA All-Star holds the ABA record with 23 assists in a game and was the Most Valuable Player of the ABA All-Star Game in 1968.

Brown and his wife, Shelly, reside in Suburban Philadelphia with their daughter, Madison (5), and son, L.J. (8). The avid golfer also has three daughters, Kristen, Alli and Melissa.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

BILLY KING

GENERAL MANAGER

Billy King is the youngest general manager in the NBA and is considered one of the League's brightest and best. The 36-year-old King is in his sixth season with the 76ers and fifth as general manager. The point man for all trades, player procurement, and negotiation of player contracts, King also manages the franchise's annual basketball operations budget.

King joined the 76ers on June 2, 1997, as vice president of basketball administration, a role in which he served as the point person for basketball operations. Less than a year later, he was promoted to General Manager, and on April 5, 2000, he was signed to a new multi-year contract with the team.

During King's tenure, the Sixers have made drastic improvements in the win-loss column. In his first season, the squad posted a nine-game improvement, sixth-best in the NBA and tied for seventh in franchise history. In 1998-99, Philadelphia earned its first appearance in the NBA Playoffs since 1990-91, advancing to the second round. The Sixers again advanced to the second round in 1999-2000. In 2000-01, the 76ers advanced to the 2001 NBA Finals, winning the Eastern Conference Championship for the first time since 1983 and claiming the Atlantic Division title. 2001-02 marked the fourth straight trip to the playoffs, the longest since a 12-year span from 1978 to 1987, and the third straight with 40 or more wins.

He has reshaped the franchise by acquiring a mix of veterans and free agents, and engineering numerous trades over the years, including this year's blockbuster deal in which he acquired Todd MacCulloch and Keith Van Horn from the New Jersey Nets for Dikembe Mutombo. Additionally, this past summer, he reworked the Sixers lineup with key signees such as Monty Williams, Greg Buckner, Efthimios Rentzias and first round draft choice John Salmons.

Prior to joining the 76ers, King was an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers under Larry Brown for four seasons. Before he joined the professional ranks, he was an assistant at Illinois State University and spent one year as a color analyst for ESPN's basketball coverage of the Ohio Valley Conference.

King was an outstanding defensive player on Duke's highly ranked teams in the late 1980s, and he received the Henry Iba Corinthian National Defensive Player of the Year award at the end of his senior season. While King was at Duke, the Blue Devils were 112-27, an average of 28 wins per season. During his collegiate career, the Blue Devils went to the Final Four twice, won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season championship and two ACC Tournament titles.

King currently serves on the USA Basketball's Senior National Team Committee and was named Treasurer for USA Basketball's Executive Committee. He is also a member of the NBA and WNBA competition committees.

King was honored as the Sports Executive of the Year at the Rainbow Sports Awards in July 2000, reflecting not only his accomplishments in the sports industry, but also the grace, dignity, commitment and humanity that he exemplifies. In 2001, "Street and Smith's Business Journal" named him one of the industries "Forty under 40." He was also inducted into Duke University's Hall of Honor on Dec. 2, 2001, in its charter group.

A Political Science major at Duke, King follows national and local politics closely. He's also a movie buff and previously hosted his own movie review show for WBNQ-Radio in Bloomington, Ill., titled "Kings Clips." King resides in Suburban Philadelphia with his Neopolitan Mastiff, "Caesar."

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

TONY DILEO

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Tony DiLeo begins his 13th season with the 76ers and his fourth as Director of Player Personnel. DiLeo spent five years as the team's director of scouting, before being promoted to his current position in August 1999. He also has served an assistant coach with the club.

DiLeo works along side General Manager Billy King with player procurement through his evaluation of amateur and professional talent, while supervising the team's scouting department. He spends countless hours on the road scouting and is relied heavily upon on draft day as well as in all trades and free agent acquisitions.

DiLeo has extensive experience in international basketball, both as a player and as a coach. He was selected as the West German Basketball Federation national coach from 1981-85, and was the country's Coach of the Year in 1987. While in Germany, DiLeo guided his club teams to nine national championships.

In 1984, DiLeo wrote and published the "European Basketball Handbook", a guide to accommodate American players overseas. He also has written a manual on rule differences among international basketball, the NBA and the NCAA.

A star at Cinnaminson (N.J.) High School, DiLeo went on to play at Tennessee Tech and La Salle University. As a junior at La Salle, he was a first-team Academic All-American and graduated maxima cum laude in his class from the School of Business.

He and his wife, Anna, and sons, T.J. (12) and Max (9), live in Cinnaminson, N.J.

RANDY AYERS

ASSISTANT COACH

Randy Ayers begins his sixth season with the Sixers. Ayers joined the 76ers in 1997 after spending the previous eight years as head basketball coach at Ohio State University. He was promoted to his current position as assistant coach on July 22, 1998.

Ayers compiled a 124-108 record at Ohio State and led the Buckeyes to four postseason appearances. He was named National Coach of the Year in 1991 by both the Associated Press and the Black Coaches Association after leading OSU to a 27-4 record. Ayers guided his 1991 squad to a school-record 27 victories and its first of two consecutive Big Ten championships. He received Big Ten Coach of the Year honors in both 1991 and 1992 after leading the Buckeyes to a school-record 15 Big Ten victories in each season.

Ayers came to Ohio State from the U.S. Military Academy, where he coached for two years as a full-time assistant in charge of recruiting. Prior to West Point, he spent two years as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

Ayers was the Ohio Player of the Year as a senior at Springfield North High School. This past season he was honored with inclusion into the Springfield North Wall of Fame. He went on to an impressive collegiate career at Miami (Ohio), starting all four years and earning all-conference honors his last two seasons. Ayers graduated in 1978 and was selected in the third round of that year's NBA draft by the Chicago Bulls. Released on the final cut, he played a year of pro ball in Reno, Nev. In 1991, Ayers was selected to Miami's Hall of Fame.

For the third year, Ayers was head coach of the 76ers entry in the Shaw's Pro Summer League that took place in Boston over the summer.

Ayers and his wife, Carol, have two sons, Ryan (16) and Cameron (11) and the family resides in the Philadelphia area.

BOB BENDER

ASSISTANT COACH / PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Bob Bender joins the 76ers staff this season after 13 seasons as a college head coach, the last nine at the University of Washington. The 1996 Pac-10 Coach of the Year directed the Huskies to a 116-142 record in his tenure, including four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament from 1996 to 1999, a feat no other Washington head coach previously accomplished, and two NIT appearances. His 116 coaching victories ranks fourth all-time among Washington coaches.

Bender's 1998 Husky squad, which featured Sixer Todd MacCulloch, posted a 20-10 (.667) record that marked the school's finest winning percentage since 1985. Among the 1998 Husky highlights were their first 20-win season since 1987, their first NCAA berth since 1986 and their first Sweet 16 appearance since 1984, falling in the final seconds to UConn.

Bender began his head coaching career with a four-year tenure at Illinois State (1990-93) where he was 60-57, earning two Missouri Valley Conference championships, one conference tournament title and an NCAA Tournament berth in 1990.

Prior to his inaugural head coaching assignment at Illinois State, Bender was an assistant under Mike Krzyzewski at Duke from 1983 to 1989. The Blue Devils qualified for the NCAA Tournament in each of Bender's six seasons on the staff, including four trips to the Final Four. While at Duke, Bender tutored King and later worked with him at Illinois State.

A graduate of Duke in 1980, Bender has the distinction of being the only individual to play on two different teams in the NCAA Championship game. He was a freshman on Bobby Knight's undefeated 1976 Indiana team and played point guard at Duke from 1977-80, including an appearance in the 1978 title game against Kentucky. Bender was drafted by the San Diego Clippers in the sixth round before his senior year, but did not play.

Bender and his wife, Alice have a 6-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, and a 4-year-old son, Robert Michael III.

DAVE HANNERS

ASSISTANT COACH / PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Dave Hanners returns for his third season as an assistant coach with the 76ers after joining the staff in mid-November 2000.

In addition, to his assistant coaching duties, Hanners assists in the development of players during the regular season and in the offseason.

Hanners came to the Sixers after 12 seasons on the University of North Carolina basketball staff. In his tenure at Carolina from 1989-90 to 1999-2000, the Tar Heels played in six Final Fours, won an NCAA title in 1993 and captured four Atlantic Coast Conference championships while compiling a 292-92 record (.760).

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Hanners played guard at UNC from 1972-76, earning four letters and was a tri-captain of the 1976 team. In 1976, Hanners earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Education from Carolina. After graduating, he worked on the Tar Heel staff for two years as a graduate assistant coach, helping with the junior varsity program. Hanners earned his Master of Arts degree in English Education from UNC in 1978.

Hanners began his coaching career in 1978, working as a high school head coach at the University School in Milwaukee, Wis., and continued in 1979-80 at Westover High School in Fayetteville, N.C. After his high school coaching stint, Hanners entered the collegiate ranks, serving as an assistant coach at UNC Wilmington for three years, at Furman University for two years and at East Tennessee State University for four years.

Hanners served as head coach of Carolina's junior varsity team in three different stretches from 1976-78, 1994-96 and finally in 1999-2000, where he guided the team to a 12-3 record.

He is single and resides in suburban Philadelphia.

JOHN KUESTER

ASSISTANT COACH

John Kuester enters his sixth season as an assistant coach with the 76ers. Prior to joining the Sixers in 1997, Kuester spent seven seasons with the Boston Celtics.

A University of North Carolina graduate, Kuester played under Dean Smith from 1973-77 as the Tar Heels went to four NCAA Tournaments, won a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference championships and went to the NCAA Finals in 1977. In his senior year, Kuester was voted the team's best defensive player for the second straight season and the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and the NCAA East Regionals.

Kuester joined the NBA ranks as a third-round draft choice of the Kansas City Kings (53rd overall) in 1977. He played three seasons in the NBA, one each with Kansas City, Denver and Indiana.

He began his coaching career with stints as a volunteer assistant at the University of Richmond (1980-81) and as an assistant coach at Boston University (1981-83). In 1983, he became the youngest Division I head coach, succeeding Rick Pitino at Boston University. Two seasons later, Kuester began a five-year stint as head coach of George Washington University before joining the Celtics.

During the off-season Kuester works various basketball camps including the ABCD Camp in New Jersey. Kuester enjoys spending time with his wife Tricia, son John III (14) and daughter Katelyn (11).

MIKE WOODSON

ASSISTANT COACH

Mike Woodson begins his second season on the 76ers coaching staff. He joined the Sixers after two seasons with the Cleveland Cavaliers coaching staff. He also served as an assistant coach with the Milwaukee Bucks from 1996-99. A former player, Woodson spent 11 seasons in the NBA, including part of the 1981-82 season with Coach Larry Brown at the New Jersey Nets.

Woodson was drafted out of Indiana University by the New York Knicks in the 1980 NBA Draft with the 12th overall pick. He played with seven different NBA teams including New York, New Jersey, Kansas City, Sacramento, the LA Clippers, Houston and Cleveland where he finished his playing career in 1991. Woodson averaged 14.0 points per game and scored 10,981 points in his 11 seasons. He averaged a career best 18.2 points per game in 1982-83 with Kansas City.

Woodson helped Indiana University to the 1979 NIT championship and was voted Most Valuable Player of the tournament. He was named the 1980 Big Ten MVP in his senior season. He was also a co-captain for the gold-medal winning 1979 U.S. Pan American Games team. He graduated from IU with a degree in Physical Education.

Woodson and his wife Terri, have two daughters, Alexis (12) and Mariah (11).

COURTNEY WITTE

ASSISTANT COACH / DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Courtney Witte (pronounced Witty) enters his fifth season with 76ers and 16th overall in the NBA. Last season, Witte was named director of scouting after serving as an assistant coach and the head scout for the prior two seasons.

Witte travels throughout the season to all of the NBA arenas producing scouting reports on all of the 76ers NBA opponents for use by the coaching staff. Witte also assists with preparation for the annual NBA draft by evaluating college players and free agents throughout the year.

Witte joined the Sixers prior to the 1998-99 season as a video coordinator and scout after spending 11 seasons with the Indiana Pacers, most recently as their advance scout. Witte oversaw the reconstruction of the 76ers state-of-the-art video room that features both nonlinear computerized and linear video editing systems.

Witte played collegiately at Indiana University under Coach Bob Knight, having the distinction of being his first junior college recruit. During his two seasons at Indiana, the Hoosiers made two tournament NCAA appearances, highlighted by a victory over the top-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels in the Final Eight.

Witte is single and resides in Bala Cynwyd.

JIM McNULTY

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDICINE

Although he has been associated with the 76ers since 1987 as a physical therapy consultant, Jim McNulty joins the Sixers staff in the newly created position of Director of Sports Medicine. In this capacity, McNulty will act as the liaison between the team, players, physicians and agents, while continuing to ensure that the health of the players from rehabilitation to recovery as well as injury prevention is maintained.

McNulty started his career path in 1987 with former Sixers President Pat Croce as a sports physical therapist in Croce's Broomall, Pa. office. In 1993 when NovaCare purchased Croce's Sports Physical Therapists Inc. franchise, McNulty remained throughout the transition and continued to operate as a consultant. In addition to his work with 76ers players, he has worked with players from the Phillies, Flyers and Eagles while serving as the Area Vice President for NovaCares outpatient rehabilitation centers in Eastern Pennsylvania.

McNulty began as a biophysical engineering major and attended Franklin and Marshall College from 1982-85. He switched majors to physical therapy and completed his studies at Temple University from 1985-87. He is a member of the American Physical Therapy Association and the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

McNulty and his wife, Kathleen, have a daughter, Lynne (16), and son, Michael (12), and reside in suburban Philadelphia.

LENNY CURRIER

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Lenny Currier enters his sixth season as the athletic trainer for the 76ers after spending eight years in the same role for the Orlando Magic. In 1999, Currier added to his impressive resume by serving as an athletic trainer for USA Basketball's Senior National Team that captured the gold medal in the Tournament of the America's held in Puerto Rico. That was his second stint with USA Basketball as he was the assistant athletic trainer for the USAB team that captured the bronze medal at the World Championships in Greece in 1998.

Currier reprised his roll as the head athletic trainer for the Eastern Conference when Philadelphia hosted the 2002 All-Star Game. He served in the same capacity for the 1992 NBA All-Star Game in Orlando, Fla.

The Newburyport, Mass., native joined the Magic after four seasons as the athletic trainer for the Albuquerque Dukes of the Pacific Coast League, the Triple-A farm team of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Additionally, he spent two winters in the Dominican Republic Winter League as the head athletic trainer for the Escogido Leones.

Currier is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association (EATA). Additionally, he has served as the National Basketball Trainers Association (NBTA) liaison to the Grants and Scholarship Committee for the NATA each of the last nine years.

Currier received an undergraduate degree in health education from Arizona State University in 1981. While at the Tempe school, Currier was an athletic trainer for the Sun Devils baseball team that won the College World Series in 1981. That same year, he was named "Student Trainer of the Year" by the Arizona Medical Association. Following his graduation from ASU, he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at the University of Arizona and earned a master's degree in physical education in 1982.

He accepted the assistant athletic trainer position at the University of California at Berkeley in 1982 and later that year was named the head athletic trainer at the University of South Florida in Tampa. Currier spent three years as the head athletic trainer at South Florida before moving on to the Albuquerque Dukes.

Currier is a Vietnam veteran and was awarded a Commendation Medal from the United States Air Force, in which he served from 1969 to 1973.

The 52-year old Currier and his wife, Lori, enjoy traveling, running and reading in their free time.

ALLEN LUMPKIN

DIRECTOR OF TRAVEL & TEAM SERVICES

A fixture with the 76ers for 25 years, Allen Lumpkin begins his fourth season as the director of travel and team services.

In this role, Lumpkin is responsible for team travel during the preseason and the regular season, as well as summer leagues games. He is also responsible for booking all preseason games, and during the season, acts as the team's liaison with all visiting teams.

"Lump," as he is most commonly referred to, began working for the Sixers as a ballboy in 1977. After the 76ers won the NBA championship in 1983, he began working in the box office. Lumpkin was later named the team's equipment manager in 1988.

His outstanding work is not limited to the basketball court. In 1998, he was honored in the field of sports by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. at its annual "A Salute to African-American Men" banquet. He was selected because of his outstanding achievement, leadership, dedication and commitment to the field of sports and community service.

Lumpkin enjoys golf and spending time with his family. He and his family reside in South Jersey.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

SCOTT REGO

EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Scott Rego enters his fourth season as equipment manager, but he is certainly no stranger to the Philadelphia 76ers. Rego began working for the Sixers as a ballboy in 1988 and was named assistant equipment manager in 1996. He was promoted to his current position earlier in the summer of 2000.

As equipment manager, Rego is responsible for the ordering, daily maintenance and supervision of all player equipment and uniforms, while maintaining the Sixers locker room. In addition, he supervises the Sixers ballboys and continues a close working relationship with the director of travel and team services.

Rego served as the head equipment manager for the 2002 NBA All-Star Weekend when Philadelphia hosted the 2002 NBA All-Star Game. He has been featured on the NBA's Inside Stuff and will be a video correspondent for Sixers.com this season.

Nicknamed "Soprano" by the players, the Philadelphia native graduated from Temple University in 1994 with a degree in Bachelor of Arts.

Rego was born and raised in South Philadelphia, which he still calls his home.

FRONT OFFICE

DAVE COSKEY

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

With more than 21 years experience in the fields of sports and entertainment, Executive Vice President Dave Coskey has played a large part in the resurgence of the 76ers organization not just in Philadelphia, but in the NBA.

During his tenure, Coskey has played an integral role in the area of attendance enhancement. Over the past six seasons, the team has increased its overall attendance by 72 percent, setting average attendance records each consecutive year. In 2001-02, the Sixers had franchise records for total 842,976, average 20,560 attendance and sellouts 25. With their march to the NBA Finals in 2001, the Sixers surpassed the million fan mark for the first time in its history.

Much of this success can be attributed to the creativity that has become a cornerstone of the Sixers' marketing and promotional efforts. Innovative giveaways like the Allen Iverson Celebriduck, extraordinary game presentation and a high-energy atmosphere at the First Union Center have created a great environment for Sixers fans.

Coskey was elevated to the position of Executive Vice President on July 25, 2001 after spending his first three seasons as vice president of marketing and operations with the 76ers. He was promoted to senior vice president in August 1999.

Although still responsible for overseeing the team's overall marketing, promotions, radio and television broadcasts, advertising sales, public relations, community relations, fan relations and game operations departments, Coskey is now also be responsible for the entire business operations and financial aspects of the team. Additionally, in September of 1999, Coskey was chosen by his peers to serve on the NBA's Marketing Advisory Board.

Coskey served as vice president of marketing at Trump Plaza Hotel and Casino before becoming a principal in MediaWorks Communications, an award-winning advertising, public relations and video production firm located in Linwood, NJ.

The recipient of numerous awards for achievement in the fields of advertising and public relations while at MediaWorks, Coskey played a key role in marketing of Seles-Navratilova, named sports marketing event of the year in 1995 by Brandweek Magazine, as well as several of the top-grossing pay-per-view television events of all-time including Holyfield vs. Foreman and the Howard Stern New Year's Eve special. He is currently in the midst of his second stint with the Sixers, having previously served as the team's director of public relations and assistant director of marketing from 1986-1988.

A graduate of Villanova University, Coskey received the "Alumni Medal for Outstanding Achievement" from the College of Arts and Sciences in 2001. He and his wife Monica currently reside in Avalon, N.J., along with their three sons David (20), Michael (16) and Stephen (14).

LARA PRICE

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT

Currently entering her seventh season with the 76ers, Lara Price continues to raise the bar as the Sixers Senior Vice President when it comes to the "show around the game." Each season, Sixers fans have been treated to terrific in arena entertainment, inventive giveaways and an electric atmosphere at the First Union Center.

When she was elevated to vice president of marketing in August 1998, Price was one of only 18 female vice presidents in the NBA. She was promoted as the team's senior vice president in August 2001 and assists in overseeing the team's marketing and communications department, which includes Communications, Community Relations and New Media as well as the Sixers Dance Team.

The Sixers "show around the game" is considered by many to be among the best in the NBA, and Price seized the opportunity to showcase the team, the city of Philadelphia and its fans, to the entire nation when the Sixers advanced to the 2001 NBA Finals for the first time in 18 years. Nowhere across the country was there a greater atmosphere than at the First Union Center.

Price has also played a key role in the development of the 76ers' marketing and promotional plans, which have helped contribute to the team's significant increase in attendance over the past five seasons. She manages the Sixers television, radio and print advertising plans.

The recipient of several awards for excellence in advertising and public relations, Price joined the 76ers in 1996 as director of marketing after serving as manager of team services for the NBA. She also served as director of team services for the Continental Basketball Association.

A native of Boulder, Col., Price is a graduate of Colorado State University, where she was also a member of the women's basketball team. Price resides in Narberth, Pa.

ANDY SPEISER

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Andy Speiser begins his 11th season as the 76ers chief financial officer. He manages all financial aspects for the team, including supervising the team's financial reporting, budgeting, and the treasury function as well as serving as financial liaison to the National Basketball Association and the 76ers' managing partner, Comcast-Spectator.

In addition to his many financial responsibilities, Speiser also serves as a special advisor to 76ers' General Manager Billy King on matters regarding the complexities of the NBA salary cap. His extensive knowledge of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, including the salary cap and player contracts, has made Speiser an invaluable resource to the basketball operations department.

Prior to joining the 76ers in August 1992, Speiser spent nine years working for McDonnell Douglas Truck Services, Inc. in Fort Washington, Pa., most recently as their corporate controller from 1990-92.

A graduate of Syracuse University, Speiser and his wife Sharon reside in Yardley, Pa., with their sons Alex (15) and Dan (13).

JIM VANSTONE

VICE PRESIDENT OF SALES

Jim VanStone begins his second season with the Sixers front office as Vice President of Sales. VanStone started his career in 1991 as a 76ers intern and became a Ticket Sales Representative in 1993. He progressed to the position of Director of Sales in charge of new business development before leaving the organization in 1998.

VanStone joined the NHL's Tampa Bay Lightning in July 1998 as Director of Ticket Sales & Operations, overseeing all ticket related responsibilities. He then joined the Cavs/Gund Arena Company in March 1999, serving as Vice President of Ticket Sales. There, VanStone oversaw subscription sales, group sales, telemarketing and customer service operations for the Cleveland Cavaliers, Cleveland Rockers and Gund Arena. VanStone holds a Master's degree in Sports and Recreation Administration from Temple University, as well as a Bachelor of Arts in Communications from William Paterson College.

He and his wife Becky have a baby girl, Lauren (1), and reside in Suburban Philadelphia.

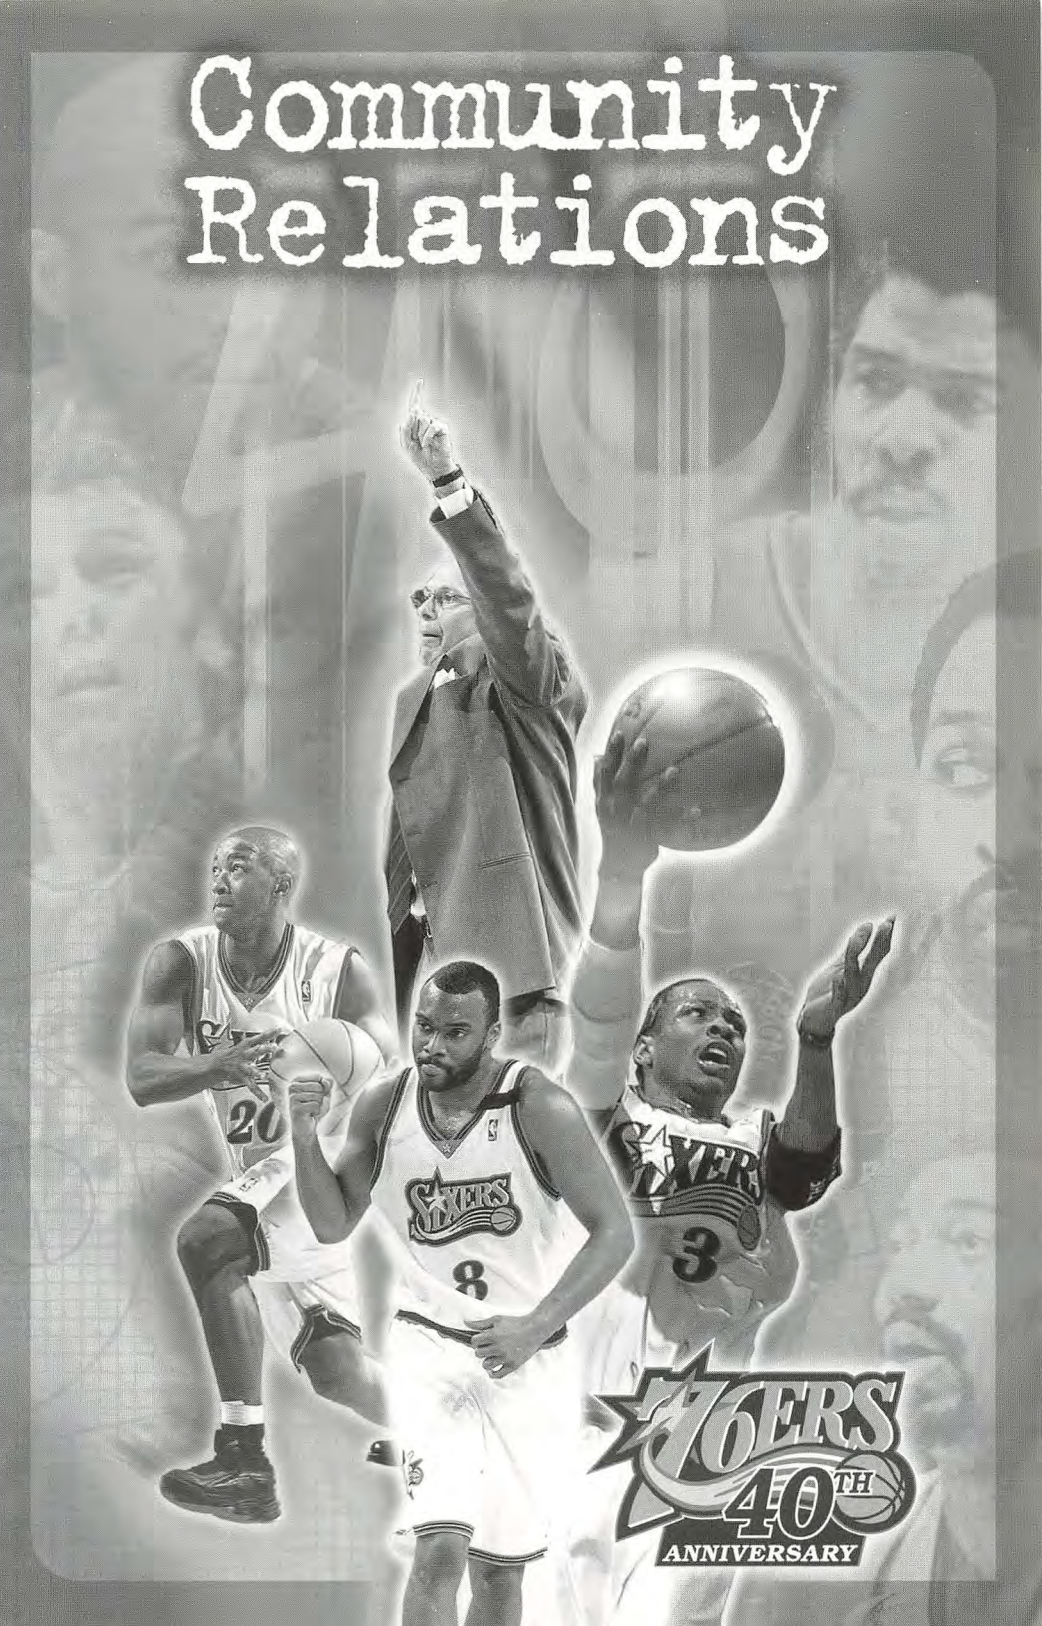
The Sixers Dance Team is in its sixth season as an integral part of the 76ers game entertainment package. This group of professional dancers immediately makes their presence known by greeting fans at the doors of the First Union Center on game days and then by presenting the crowd with energetic choreography during breaks in play. Under the direction of Debbie Apalucci, the team is able to maintain excellence in performance quality by practicing over 10 hours a week.

In addition to their amazing talent, which is displayed on the court, the dancers add their personal enthusiasm as members of the Sixers' organization and enjoy appearing at many of the team's promotional events and charity functions.

Community Relations



YOUR SIXERS. OUR COMMUNITY.

SIXERS CHARITIES℠

The ultimate measure of an organization's success is not only the number in the "win" column at the season's end, but what the team stands for year after year in the community.

Founded in 1996, Sixers Charities takes tremendous pride in serving the community and its children. By assisting organizations that focus on youth, recreation, health and education, our hope is to make a positive difference. We have helped create and assist in a wide variety of services, including educational and recreational programs, and provide tickets, autographed and promotional items, and publicity. Most importantly, the personal involvement and dedication of the 76ers family is what we hope will make Philadelphia a better place to live.

As partner and friend to the children of the Delaware Valley, the 76ers are primarily focused on helping kids succeed in school, form well-rounded lives, and, most of all, have fun. After all, children should have the opportunity to play, grow, dream, and ultimately, "win" at life. The Sixers reach out to area youth in many ways. The franchise's programming covers an incredible range, from monthly reading appearances at local schools, to educational initiatives on the team's web site, to refurbishing playgrounds, to providing scholarships for students. Each year, the club touches over 35,000 kids in the Delaware Valley.

Children, however, are not the only beneficiaries of good will, as the 76ers are honored to reach Philadelphians in other ways as well. The team supports area hospitals by visiting patients of all ages, hosts annual outings at seniors' centers, sponsors and adult wheelchair basketball team, and honors local citizens for outstanding community service at games.

Since Comcast-Spectacor assumed management of the franchise, countless organizations have benefited from the 76ers' commitment. Included in the lengthy list of beneficiaries are the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, Catholic Youth Organization, The Ronald McDonald House, The Philadelphia Department of Recreation, Police Athletic League, Magee Rehabilitation, Inner City Games, March of Dimes, Project HOME, and the Philadelphia Public Coaches League.

76ERS BEACH BASH

The charitable event of the summer is the 76ers Beach Bash. In the first five years, the Beach Bash has raised over $70,000 for Sixers Charities. The Beach Bash is a festive event for fans and families in Avalon, N.J. with the 2002-03 Sixers Dance Team making its first public appearance, the Sixers Houseband providing music, and lots of games and giveaways throughout the afternoon. The 76ers mascot Hip-Hop, former 76ers All-Star World B. Free, and other special guests are in attendance to help raise money for the charity.

76ERS ONLINE AUCTIONS

Unique collectibles, autographed items, and one-of-a-kind experiences are posted on www.sixers.com throughout the year to benefit Sixers Charities. More than $89,000 was raised for Sixers Charities through online auctions, such as hosting a sleepover in the 76ers locker room, one-of-a-kind autographed jerseys signed by celebrities, along with autographed team memorabilia and Sixers collectibles. The most successful auction was the 76ers first-ever Shirts-Off-Their-Backs. Each team member's authentic, game-worn, autographed jersey was auctioned at the end of the season, raising over $22,000 for Sixers Charities.

76ERS SPECIAL EVENTS

The 76ers host a variety of special events throughout the year to benefit Sixers Charities. In June 2002, the 76ers hosted a special benefit screening of the Twentieth Century Fox children's movie Like Mike. Various 76ers players, dance team members and front office staff were on hand to sign autographs and visit with moviegoers.

During the Fourth of July holiday, the 76ers and Ocean Galleries in Stone Harbor, N.J. announced a partnership with artist Peter Max to unveil a Max original portrait of the 1982-83 Sixers championship team. Proceeds from the auction of this portrait will benefit Sixers Charities, including the Cory Marvin Erving Foundation and the Wilt Chamberlain Memorial Fund. Max was also on hand to auction off a hand painted basketball, raising over $5,000 for Sixers Charities.

76ERS READ TO ACHIEVE

presented by Mountain Dew

The NBA's Read to Achieve program is designed to help young people develop a life long love for reading. Read to Achieve united the NBA's leading assets to promote the value of reading and online literacy, as well as encouraging families and adults to read regularly with young children. The 76ers Read to Achieve program, presented by Mountain Dew, consists of various events including player appearances, school appearances, a book drive, online storybooks, and the opening of two reading and learning centers in Philadelphia.

Throughout the season, players, coaches and members of the Sixers All-Star reading team visited schools and libraries reaching out to over 2,000 kids and donating over 5,000 Scholastic Books. The Sixers All-Star reading team includes members of the 76ers family, local media members, Hip-Hop, Sixers Dance Team members and others.

76ERS READ FOR RONALD

To Benefit The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House

The 76ers Read for Ronald program encourages students to read while also offering an assist to sick children and their families by supporting The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House (The House). The House provides shelter and emotional support for families of critically ill children being treated at area hospitals. Elementary and middle school children collect pledges for each minute read during the month of February.

In six years, youth representing more than 30 Delaware Valley schools have raised over $606,000 for The House. Participating students receive incentives for reading, including 76ers bookmarks, certificates, and books for their school's library provided by Scholastic, Inc. Former 76ers All-Star World B. Free, Hip-Hop, and a 76ers player visit the top fundraising school. In addition, Free, Executive Vice President Dave Coskey, Hip-Hop and Ronald McDonald attend a special awards ceremony at The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House for the top fundraising students.

76ERS NEIGHBORHOOD BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The Sixers Neighborhood Basketball League (SNBL) is a youth recreation league conducted by the Philadelphia Department of Recreation and powered by PECO Energy. The SNBL offers girls and boys the opportunity to participate in an organized, supervised league at one of the 37 Department of Recreation facilities through a recreational basketball program.

Each season more than 5,000 youths compete in over 65 leagues from December to April. Each player receives an official SNBL T-shirt and participants are recognized at a 76ers game. In addition, eight SNBL teams have the opportunity to play on the 76ers home court prior to a game.

76ERS LA LIGA DEL BARRIO

76ers La Liga del Barrio, presented by Old Navy, is Philadelphia's first Latino youth basketball league. The youth recreation league offers Latino youth an opportunity to develop basketball skills and enjoy the game, while also promoting educational achievement. The league is open for boys and girls ages 6 to 16 and consists of 28 teams. Each player receives an official La Liga Del Barrio T-shirt, and select participants have the opportunity to play on the 76ers home court prior to a game.

76ERS SUMMER HOOPS TOUR

presented by

During the summer months, the 76ers take to the streets and the playgrounds of the Delaware Valley with the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour presented by Poland Spring. The Hoops Tour is a series of free basketball clinics designed to teach and reinforce the fundamentals of basketball. Former 76ers All-Star World B. Free leads the series of free clinics that take place during June, July and August. Participants are led through a series of drills and games demonstrating basic basketball skills, while encouraging participants to have fun. Initially starting with 14 locations in 1996, the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour has grown tremendously and will reach out to more than 9,000 children this year. The 39-stop Tour encompasses the entire Philadelphia region from Pottstown, Pa. to the New Jersey Shore and north from Allentown, Pa. all the way down to Newark, Del.

76ERS HOLIDAY HOOPLA

The Sixers mascot Hip-Hop loves to bring smiles to children's faces during the holiday season. During Halloween, Hip-Hop hosts a serious of pumpkin painting parties at area hospitals. Hip-Hop, Sixers Dance Team members, and front office personnel pack up pumpkins, paint, and other treats to visit pediatric wards and celebrate the rabbit's second favorite holiday – Halloween.

During the holiday season, the entire 76ers family including players, coaches, Hip-Hop and front office personnel visit area hospitals. The Sixers family and the children decorate stockings and make holiday crafts, making this a great holiday for children who otherwise may not be able to go home.

MAGEE SIXERS SPOKESMEN

MAGEE SIXERS SPOKESMEN

The Magee Sixers Spokesmen will once again take to the courts throughout the Northeast. The competitive wheelchair team wears official 76ers game jerseys by Reebok. Throughout the season, the Magee Sixers Spokesmen participate in numerous activities to promote wheelchair basketball, including playing a halftime exhibition game at the First Union Center. During the summer, members of the Magee Sixers Spokesmen also conduct a youth wheelchair basketball clinic as part of the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour, presented by Poland Spring. The team competes in local and regional contests before attempting to qualify for the National Wheelchair Basketball Tournament in March. The Magee Sixers Spokesmen have had a representative appear at the NBA's wheelchair All-Star game the last two seasons.

ERIC'S CHALLENGE

ERIC'S CHALLENGE

Eric's Challenge is a community outreach program designed to bring enrichment to Philadelphia-area families by helping them build stronger foundations and focusing on the father-son relationship. Last season, Eric's Challenge incorporated Eric Snow's "Steal and Assist" donation program that donates $20 per steal and $10 per assist to Sixers Charities. In addition, a new initiative, called "Father-Son One-on-One" invited one father and son duo for each home game to meet Snow before the game and watch the Sixers play with tickets provided by the point guard. Also, each month the Sixers auctioned off an opportunity to bid on an outing with Eric and his son, E.J. in the community with all proceeds benefit Sixers Charities. Through his season-long community outreach effort, "Eric's Challenge", 76ers guard Eric Snow raised $12,796 for the Father's Day Rally Committee, Foundation 2000 and Sixers Charities. Snow received several awards for his program, including the 2002 Fatherhood Award and NBA's Community Assist Award for December.

76ERS COMMUNITY ASSISTS

Through the generosity of the 76ers players, coaches, season ticket holders, and sponsors, tickets to every 76ers home game at the First Union Center are available to non-profit organizations. Leading the way in the purchase of tickets are Sixers Derrick Coleman, Allen Iverson, Aaron McKie, Executive Vice President Dave Coskey, and General Manager Billy King, who each have their own cheering section at every game. Fans can look up to the Mezzanine level at the First Union Center and see "Coleman's Kids," "A.I's Crossover Crew," "Aaron's Neighborhood," "Coskey's Corner," and "King's Court." Each of the five has donated a block of tickets for distribution to non-profit organizations. Groups can request up to 20 tickets once a season to enjoy the fun and excitement of 76ers basketball. All groups are recognized on the First Union Center scoreboard during the game.

76ERS HOMETOWN HERO

The 76ers Hometown Hero program awards two tickets to "an everyday hero in the community" to each 76ers home game. Last year's 76ers Hometown Heroes included firefighters, police officers, kids, teachers, volunteers, and community leaders. Prior to each home game, the 76ers Hometown Hero was introduced at center court and presented with an award by a Sixers executive.

76ERS PLAYGROUND REBOUND

The 76ers backboard revitalization project, Playground Rebound, aims to refurbish area playgrounds, recreation centers and athletic facilities by providing grants and basketball equipment. Any community-based group can send a letter detailing the site location, current backboard conditions, equipment needs, and youth program activities at the site. Letters are reviewed through an ongoing basis. The first renovation was held on September 1, 2000, at the Franklin Avenue Playground in Woodbine, N.J. In 2002, the 76ers partnered with the Philadelphia Department of Recreation, donating backboards to 10 different playgrounds in Philadelphia.

76ERS BASKETBALL 101

76ers Basketball 101 presented by Reebok

76ers Basketball 101, presented by Reebok, is a fast-paced clinic designed to teach the fundamentals of basketball. Basketball 101 is available for schools, clubs and special events. One of the 76ers professors of basketball, World B. Free, takes kids through a "class" in basketball. Upon completion of the program, "graduates" are awarded diplomas.

JR. NBA AND JR. WNBA

jr. nba jr. wnba

The Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA is a initiative that serves existing recreational youth basketball leagues through support programs for players, coaches, parents and officials. Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA programs emphasize fundamental skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation with the goal of providing a fun and rewarding youth basketball experience. In the Delaware Valley, there are approximately 11,500 kids participating in the Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA leagues. The 76ers are proud to support the leagues, including members from the Sixers Neighborhood Basketball League, La Liga Del Barrio, Police Athletic League, and the Catholic Youth Organization.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN MEMORIAL FUND

Initiated in 2002 by former 76ers great Billy Cunningham, the Wilt Chamberlain Memorial Fund provides a living legacy to perhaps the greatest player of all-time while providing scholarship opportunities to both athletically and academically talented youngsters throughout the Philadelphia area.

GODSHALK MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The 76ers established a scholarship fund in the memory of Bill Godshalk, a long-time fan and season-ticket holder of both the Sixers and Flyers, who was lost in the 9/11 attack on the World Trade Center. The Pennsbury Scholarship Foundation gives a $1,000 scholarship each year in Godshalk's name to a college-bound graduate of Pennsbury High School.

NBA COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The NBA is strongly committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on reading and youth programs. Each year the league, its players and its teams, donate millions of dollars and hundreds of hours to charities and community outreach programs. Through its extensive outreach programs, team foundations and public service announcements, the NBA is deeply involved in addressing a variety of important social issues in its communities.

Read to Achieve is a year-round program designed to help young people develop a life-long love for reading that reaches an estimated 50 million children a year. It is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. In addition to a year-round promotional campaign, the effort includes the annual donation of more than 300,000 books through a variety of reading events and book fairs, as well as the creation of locally based Reading and Learning Centers.

With the support of long-time national partners such as RIF and Scholastic Inc., the NBA has created more than 30 Reading and Learning Centers throughout North America in an effort to provide access to reading materials and technology to young people everywhere.

Integral components of the program are national, and local All-Star Reading Teams, comprised of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA family, promote reading efforts through in-arena events, Public Service Announcements, and community appearances throughout the year.

In recognition of the community outreach and commitment to service of our players, the league has established the Community Assist Award, which honors players whose efforts in the community are truly outstanding. To honor the NBA Player that reflects the passion that the league and its players have for their communities, all 29 NBA teams nominate a player for the Community Assist Award which is presented monthly throughout the year.

Awarded annually at the conclusion of each league's regular season, the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards recognize players who embody the spirit of sportsmanship. The NBA makes a $25,000 donation on behalf of the NBA Sportsmanship Award honoree, and a $10,000 donation on behalf of each of the three divisional awardees, to the charitable organization of their choice.

The NBA also supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, honors the Martin Luther King Holiday, Black History Month, Gallaudet University, the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund and the National Wheelchair Basketball Association.

HIGH TECH INTERACTIVES

- The First Union Center's interactive computers and other technology bring fans into the next century. The First Union Center offers fans high-tech toys, including touch-screen video kiosks, large video screen monitors, lifesize interactive standups, video games, basketball pop-a-shots, air hockey tables and more.
- The First Union Center features binocs Binocular Systems, a patented wireless rental system for high-quality, seat-mounted binoculars to bring fans closer to the action. binocs is aimed to provide the most enjoyable entertainment experience for all fans. Customers access the binocs systems via wireless handheld computers from vendors walking through the aisles in the mezzanine level.
- The First Union Center features free, high-speed internet access in all 126 luxury suites and 14 club boxes for premium seating customers to review plays, learn of upcoming events or browse through the internet.
- The First Union Center is the first arena to combine memorabilia display cases with interactive touch-screen video kiosks. By touching icons that pop up on computer screens, passers-by will be able to learn about the Flyers and the 76ers or watch video clips from previous concerts held at either the First Union Center or the First Union Spectrum. There are three different interactive video stations throughout the First Union Center, including the Flyers Experience, the Sixers Zone and a concert and family show exhibit. Developed by the Frontier Media Group in Malvern, PA, with the help of Comcast Corporation, the First Union Center has created new methods to reach their fans. The technology enhances the fan's experience at a game or show with information about the team and the sports world.

- Fans can find out what other events are coming to the First Union Spectrum or First Union Center by watching the interactive video monitors. They can also receive information on either arena, discounts on merchandise through a couponing system or information about how to buy tickets for upcoming events.
- The First Union Center also boasts three large video monitors, including an eight-foot by 16-foot screen, which serve as replay monitors during live sporting events or upcoming event calendars and promotional videos throughout the intermissions.
- There are opportunities for fans to get behind a life-size hockey goalie in the Flyers Experience and watch through the goalie mask what it is like to be a goalie in the National Hockey League.

- The information in all of the interactive kiosks, as well as the video monitors are updated daily, keeping the information fresh for the fans.

76ERS PRACTICE FACILITY

PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE
76ERS PRACTICE FACILITY

For more than a century, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine has trained highly competent, caring physicians, health practitioners and behavioral scientists who practice a "whole person" approach to medicine, treating people, not just symptoms. PCOM offers the doctor of osteopathic medicine degree and advanced degree programs in psychology, physician assistant studies and biomedical sciences. Our students learn the importance of health promotion, education and service to the community through PCOM's five healthcare centers providing care to the medically underserved population in inner city and rural locations.

On May 19, 1998, the Philadelphia 76ers and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine (PCOM) broke ground on a state-of-the-art practice facility in the city of Philadelphia.

Opened in the summer of 1999, the facility features a weight room with custom-sized equipment, an audio-visual room with theatre seating, as well as a full size basketball court with two main baskets and four side baskets to be shared by the college and 76ers. The facility also houses private coaches' offices, a training room and locker room exclusively for the Sixers.

Last Sixers win in Phila.
1/7/02 (116-92)

Last Sixers win at LA Clippers
12/26/01 (100-86)

SERIES NOTES: After splitting the series four-consecutive years, the Sixers took both games from the Clippers in 2001-02 (the teams did not meet in 1998-99), sweeping the series for the first time since 1989-90...the road win last season stopped Philadelphia's seven-game losing streak in L.A. to the Clippers...the 76ers had won 22 straight over the Clippers franchise in Philadelphia from 1975-76 through 1991-92 and have won the last five games.

11/17/01 (94-82)

SERIES NOTES: While the Sixers have recorded at least one victory in New Jersey in every season since the 1992-93 campaign, they also have one loss there in each of the last seven seasons … the Sixers have beaten the Nets in 10 of the last 15 meetings…before last season's run to the NBA Finals, the only NBA playoff the Nets had won in their history was in 1984 when they upset the defending league champion 76ers in the first round…76ers Head coach Larry Brown coached the Nets for two seasons (1981-82 and 1982-82) during that time he compiled the best winning percentage of any coach in the team's history (.576).

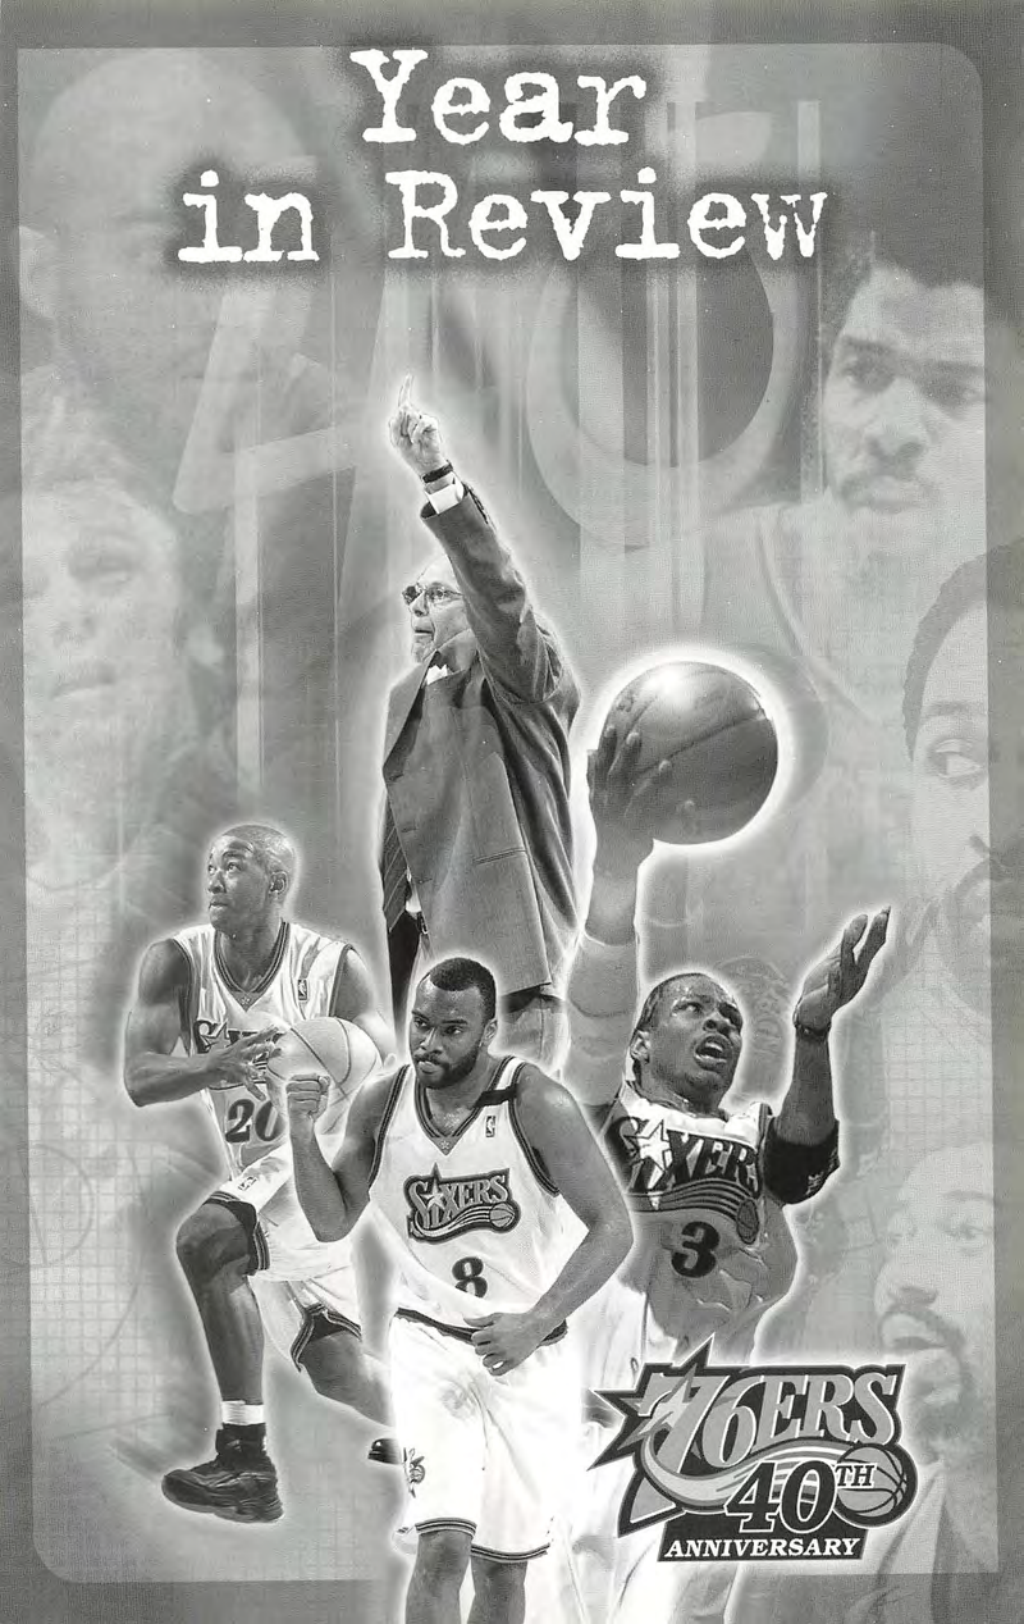
76ERS 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Comcast SPECTACOR

Year in Review



MONTH-BY-MONTH RECAPS

OCTOBER/NOVEMBER (7-7): With the reigning league MVP Allen Iverson, Sixth Man of the Year Aaron McKie and starting point guard Eric Snow all sidelined with injuries, the 76ers got off to a slow start in 2001-02. The defending Eastern Conference Champs started the season in Minnesota with a starting lineup that did not include a single player from the opening day starting lineup of a year ago. The starting five consisted of rookie Speedy Claxton and Raja Bell, big man Dikembe Mutombo, newcomers Matt Harpring and Derrick Coleman. Coleman was acquired in a three-team trade on Oct. 25 and was returning to the Sixers lineup after a three-year absence. The new faces that also included Corie Blount and Vonteego Cummings from the trade, struggled as they dropped their first four contests of the season with losses to Minnesota, Dallas, Washington and Indiana. McKie returned to active duty after missing the first four games from off-season shoulder surgery, but his presence was unable to stop the Sixers slide as the team dropped its fifth straight contest at the hands of Houston, 77-72. The 0-5 start was their worst start since Larry Brown's first year with the team in 1997-98. Things improved as Iverson was activated after undergoing off-season right elbow surgery. His return, coupled with that of McKie, helped the Sixers win their next seven consecutive contests. Larry Brown won his 1,200th career game as a college and NBA head coach on Nov. 21 with the victory versus Detroit. For his play in the seven-game stretch, Iverson was named NBA's Eastern Conference Player of the Week for the games between November 12-18. The Sixers defense also seemed to improve as they held Cleveland (11/23) to 68 total points, the second lowest point total in the history of the First Union Center. The seven-game winning streak was eventually snapped by Vince Carter and the Toronto Raptors, 107-88, on Nov. 25. The Sixers finished the month at home versus Michael Jordan and the Washington Wizards on Nov. 28. Despite the 20,931 attendance, the 11th largest crowd for a Sixers home game, the Sixers fell to Washington, 94-87, to finish the month even at 7-7.

DECEMBER (12-18, 5-11): Mutombo led the Sixers to their eighth victory of the season at Chicago on Dec. 1 as he recorded his first triple-double as a Sixer (10th career) and tied an NBA record with eight blocks in the third quarter. On Dec. 2, McKie who had left the Chicago game after feeling lightheaded, was diagnosed with atrial fibrillation and would undergo a procedure to restore normal heart rhythm. With McKie missing the next two games, and Iverson and Coleman going in and out of the line-up with injuries; the injury plagued Sixers dropped their next seven consecutive contests. On Dec. 14, Snow returned to the starting lineup versus the Milwaukee Bucks, after missing the first 21 games of the season from a left thumb fracture he had suffered in the preseason. Despite having their floor general back, the Sixers could not shut down the Bucks, losing 96-80. With an 8-14 record and all the pieces back in place, the 76ers won three of the next four games with victories over Cleveland, Boston and Atlanta; the lone loss coming at the hands of the Charlotte Hornets (12/19). On Christmas Day, the Sixers began their longest road trip of the season, seven games in 12 days, with a West Coast swing. The team dropped their Christmas contest versus the Lakers, but rebounded to knock off the LA Clippers the following day. With the win, Head Coach Larry Brown earned his 800th NBA victory in his 30th year as a head coach. The Sixers finished the month losing two straight at Denver and Utah. Against Utah, Coleman received a flagrant foul and was ejected from the game for throwing a punch at Jazz forward Karl Malone. Coleman was fined by the NBA and suspended for one game, which he served at Phoenix (1/2). At month's end, the Sixers posted a 12-18 overall record after going 5-11 in the month.

JANUARY (23-22, 11-4): The Sixers opened the New Year winning three of their four contests, with victories at Seattle, at Phoenix and versus the L.A. Clippers. Maybe it was the headbands that the majority of the team sported for the first time at Phoenix on Jan. 2 as a statement of unity. By the next contest at Seattle on Jan. 4, the entire team was wearing them and did so for four games. Iverson recorded his first career triple-double with 30 points, 11 assists, and 10 rebounds versus the Clippers (1/7). Overall, the month belonged to Iverson and the Sixers. Iverson recorded his 500th career three-pointer on his way to 58 points in an overtime victory versus Houston on Jan. 15. His 58 points is a career-high, NBA season-high and tied for the fourth best mark in Sixers history. Three games later, Iverson scored his 10,000th career point versus the Seattle Supersonics on Jan. 21. Despite Iverson's showing, the Sonics dominated the Sixers offensively shooting 66.1 percent from the floor, the second best for an opponent in Sixers history and an NBA season-high. On Jan. 25, Iverson continued to set the tone, moving into fourth place on the Sixers steals chart. The Sixers, who achieved an 11-4 record for the month, finally broke the .500 mark with a 93-87 win over the LA Lakers on Jan. 27. For his play in the month, Iverson was named NBA's Eastern Conference Player of the Week twice, becoming the first player to win back-to-back awards since Karl Malone in 1997. He was eventually named the NBA's Eastern Conference Player of the Month. Earlier in the month, Snow received the NBA Community Assist Award for the month of December for his work with fathers and sons in the community.

FEBRUARY (28-28, 5-6): The month of February began with Mutombo grabbing his 10,000th career rebound in the 100-93 loss to Toronto (2/4). Then, on February 14, Mutombo followed in Iverson's footsteps scoring his 10,000th career point, to become the 28th player in NBA history to have at least 10,000 points and rebounds. Both Iverson and Mutombo were starters for the Eastern Conference team in the 2001-02 NBA All-Star game in Philadelphia. After the All-Star break the Sixers would fall to Utah, 98-91 to sink their record to 25-25 and begin a rollercoaster ride with the .500 mark in the next seven games. The Sixers shot a season-low 33.3 percent in the 86-76 loss at Indiana (2/17). For the second time this season, Coleman was fined and suspended for two games following an altercation with Indiana Pacers guard Reggie Miller in the third quarter of the contest. Blount was also fined and suspended for leaving the bench during the incident. Coleman served his suspension versus Denver (2/18) with Blount and versus Golden State (2/20) with the Sixers winning both contests. The Sixers finished the month versus Miami (2/27), holding the Heat to a season-low 33.7 percent shooting from the floor. For the month, the Sixers finished 5-6 improving their record to 28-28 on the season.

MARCH (38-35, 10-7): A victory over the Eastern Conference leading New Jersey Nets began the month of March. Iverson came off the bench as a punishment for violating team rules to score 43 points in the victory. Philadelphia followed that with a win on the road at Toronto to start a streak of six straight road victories. The Sixers battled injuries all season and had their entire roster together just three times. On March 22, the Sixers would become secure in the fact that the stat would remain unchanged. Iverson suffered a fractured left hand in the first quarter at Boston. Though Iverson played all 24 minutes of the first half and scored 22 points, x-rays taken at New England Baptist Hospital after halftime showed the fracture that would force him to miss the rest of the regular season. The second half of the Celtics' game would be a microcosm for the remainder of the season. Philadelphia rallied to win the game without the NBA's leading scorer. Snow scored 25 points in the game and would start a stretch over the final 22 games in which he would shoulder the scoring load with nine games of 20 or more points and average seven assists per game. The Sixers would finish the month 10-7 and a 38-35 overall mark.

APRIL (43-39, 5-4): Snow keyed an overtime victory over Phoenix on April 3 as he did in the Sixers other overtime victory in January against Houston when he stopped Moochie Norris. This time his on-the-ball defense of Stephon Marbury in the final seconds sent the game into overtime. After a 92-87 loss to Central Division leader Detroit, the Sixers faced Milwaukee in a home-and-home series with both teams fighting for their playoff survival. In the first game, Snow had a season-high 14 assists and 15 points as the Sixers survived, 89-87, when Ray Allen missed a three-pointer with five seconds to play. Two days later, it was déjà vu with the Sixers holding a 92-90 lead with seconds to play and Milwaukee missing from three-point range again. Snow followed with a season-high 26 points in a losing effort at Washington. Philadelphia would defeat the Wizards at home two days later behind 24 points from Mutombo. Coleman became the 158th player in NBA history to record 12,000 or more points in that game. A thrilling 95-89 victory at Orlando that would put an exclamation point on the month. That win assured the Sixers of a playoff berth for the fourth straight season and came against a team that had beaten the Sixers in six straight games. It looked until the final night of the regular season that the Sixers and the Magic would face each other in the first round. The Sixers had a shot at home-court advantage, but a loss to Chicago in the final regular season home game diminished those chances. Still, the Sixers were fifth when they tipped off against Indiana, who was fighting for its playoff life. The final night featured eight different scenarios that had the Sixers finishing anywhere from fourth to sixth. In the end it was a Charlotte win, an Orlando loss and a Sixers loss that saw the teams finishing in that order, fifth through sixth. The Pacers survived as well with the win and a Milwaukee loss.

2002 PLAYOFFS (2-3): The Sixers extended the best-of-five first round series against the Boston Celtics to a fifth and deciding game, before losing. The series marked a renewal of the playoff rivalry with the Celtics after 17 years. Game 1 at the Fleet Center saw the return of Iverson, who had missed the previous 14 games with a broken left hand. Iverson finished with 20 points, but it was not enough as the Sixers fell 92-82. Game 2 also went to the Celtics, who overcame a fourth quarter Sixers lead to win 93-85. With the series shifting to Philadelphia, the Sixers staved off elimination with a 108-103 win. The win came despite Boston making a Sixers playoff opponent record 15 three-pointers on 30 attempts. Antoine Walker set an NBA record for three pointers in a quarter when he had six in the second and finished the first half with 7-7 shooting. With 45.9 seconds left, McKie pulled up for an 11-foot jump shot, the shot fell well short, but Coleman came to the rescue, picking the ball out of the air and putting in a reverse lay up over his head to beat the shot clock and give the Sixers the lead for good. Iverson led all scorers with 42 points, including a Sixers record 19 free throws. The Sixers forced a fifth game when they topped Boston 83-81 in Game 4. Iverson scored the final eight points for the Sixers, who overcame a 65-58 Celtics lead early in the fourth quarter. The Sixers bid to become the seventh team in NBA history to win a best-of-five series after trailing 0-2 fell short in Boston. The Celtics handed the Sixers the third worse loss in Philadelphia playoff history with a 120-87 defeat. Boston shot 9-10 from three-point range in the fourth quarter and made 19-29 in the game. Paul Pierce was 8-10 from beyond the arc in the game and finished with 46 points to Iverson's 31.

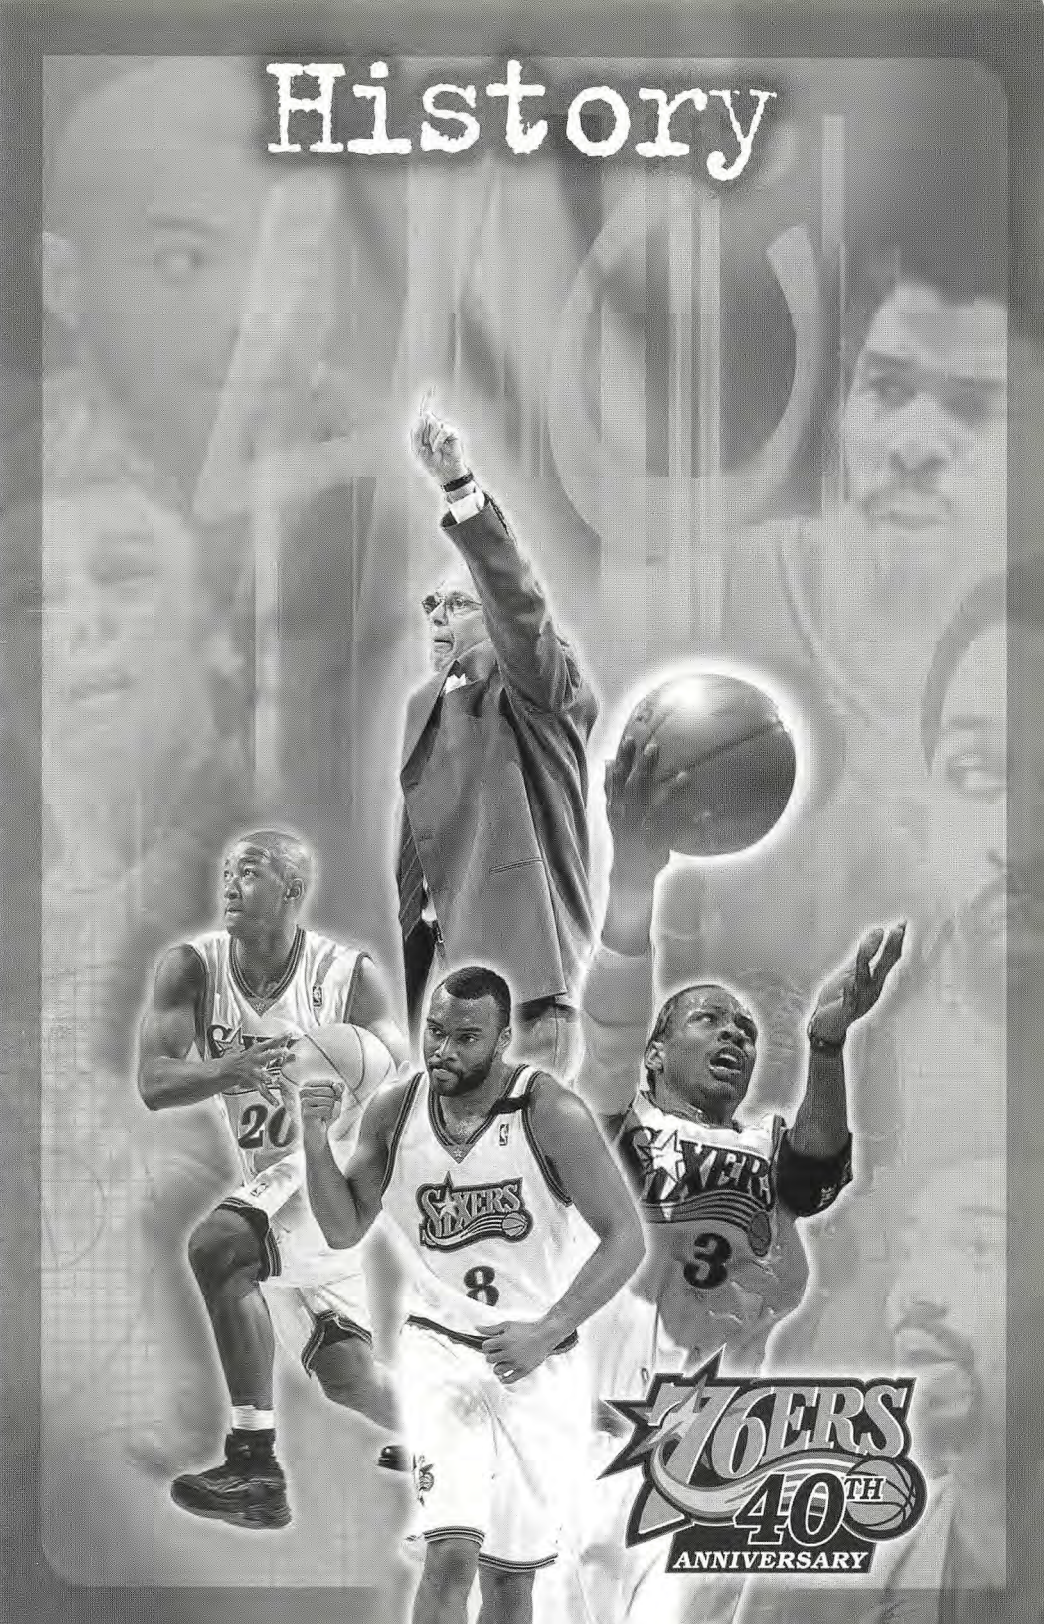
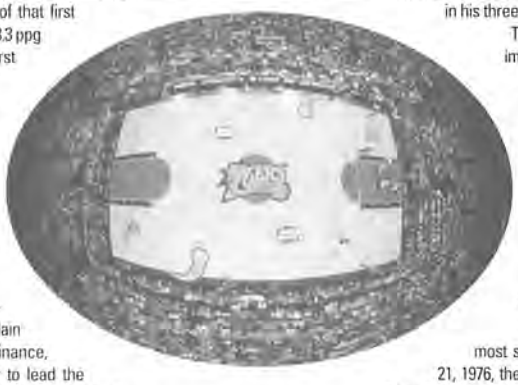
History



HISTORICAL LOOK AT THE SIXERS

The Philadelphia 76ers franchise actually began in 1949, when six teams from the midwest-based National Basketball League joined the Basketball Association of America to form the 17-team National Basketball Association. One of those teams was the Syracuse Nationals, which eventually became the Philadelphia 76ers. The Nats went 51-13 in their first NBA season under Al Cervi, and won the Eastern Division crown. The team was very successful in Syracuse, reaching the NBA final in both 1950 and 1954 both times losing to the Minneapolis Lakers. They finally broke through in 1955, taking their first, and only, NBA title by defeating the Fort Wayne Pistons 92-91 on April 10, 1955, taking the series 4-3. The team posted winning records in 11 of its 14 seasons in Syracuse.

The Nats were purchased by Philadelphian Irv Kosloff and Ike Richman in the spring of 1963, and the NBA approved the franchise shift (May 22) and name change (Aug. 6) from the Nationals to the 76ers, returning professional basketball to Philly (The Philadelphia Warriors had left for San Francisco following the 1961-62 season). Nats star Dolph Schayes was named the Sixers first coach, and the team went 34-46 in its first season, finishing in third place. Guard Hal Greer was the star of that first Sixers team, averaging 23.3 ppg and becoming the first Sixers All-Star.



The first turning point for the franchise occurred on January 15, 1965, when the club acquired star center Wilt Chamberlain from the San Francisco Warriors for three players and cash. Chamberlain continued his NBA dominance, becoming the first Sixer to lead the NBA in scoring and rebounding while leading the team to its first Eastern Division title with a 55-25 record in '65-66.

Former Nats star and coach Alex Hannum succeeded Dolph Schayes as head coach prior to the '66-67 season, and the team picked up right where it left off, winning the Eastern Division title with a 68-13 record. The team then took the NBA title by defeating the San Francisco Warriors 4-2, clinching the series with a 125-122 win in game six on April 24 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

The '67-68 season saw the Sixers move from their old home, the Philadelphia Civic Center, to the new Spectrum and Jack Ramsay became the team's first GM. They opened the building with a 103-87 win over the Los Angeles Lakers on October 18, 1967. Philly finished that season with a 62-20 record, taking their third straight Eastern Division title, but lost to the Boston Celtics 4-3 in the Eastern Conference Finals. Chamberlain etched his name yet again in the NBA record-book in '67-68 by recording the NBA's only triple-double-double with 25 rebounds, 21 assists and 22 points in a 131-121 win over Detroit on February 2, 1968. Following the season, Ramsay succeeded Alex Hannum as Sixers head coach, and became the first person in team history to hold the dual role of head coach and general manager. The team just missed its fourth straight division title in '67-68, finishing second with a 55-27 mark, and was dethroned by the Boston Celtics in the opening round of the playoffs. Don DeJardin succeeded Ramsay as GM in the 1970-74 period.

Age and injuries then took their toll on the franchise. The '71-72 team became the first Sixers team to finish below .500 (30-52), and the 1972-73 squad became one of the more infamous teams in league annals, posting the worst mark in NBA history at 9-73 with Roy Rubin and Kevin Loughery splitting the coaching chores. Gene Shue's appointment as head coach on June 15, 1973 and the selection of Doug Collins with the first pick of the '73 NBA Draft began the Sixers return as an NBA power. Pat Williams' reign as GM ran from 1974 to 1986. They also added a key frontcourt player with the signing of free agent George McGinnis on July 10, 1975. Collins and McGinnis formed the foundation for the Sixers mid-'70's rise, as Collins averaged 17.9 ppg and garnered four All-Star game selections in his injury-shortened eight-season career, while McGinnis averaged 21.6 ppg and a pair of All-Star nods in his three Sixers campaigns.

The team steadily improved, highlighted by a 50-32 Atlantic Division title in '76-77 and a playoff run that saw them reach the '77 NBA Finals, where they were turned back by former coach Jack Ramsay and the Portland Trail Blazers in six games.

Philly then made its most storied move. On October 21, 1976, the Sixers purchased Julius Erving's contract from the New York Nets and on November 3, 1977, Billy Cunningham replaced Gene Shue as Sixers head coach. The team took its second-straight Atlantic Division crown with a 55-27 record, but lost to the Washington Bullets in the Eastern Conference Finals.

However, the stage was now set, and their run continued as one of the elite teams in the NBA over the better part of the next decade, winning no less than 52 games in seven straight seasons between 1979-80 and 1985-86, including three appearances in the NBA Finals. Their most memorable season during that era was 1982-83. The team, led by Erving, Moses Malone and All-Star guard Maurice Cheeks, posted a 65-17 regular season record and went on a 12-1 rampage through the NBA playoffs. They capped the championship off with a 4-0 sweep of the Los Angeles Lakers in the Finals. Harold Katz purchased the team from Fitz Dixon in July of 1981, and helped guide them to the title in his second ownership season.

Billy Cunningham continued at the helm until June 14, 1985, when he was replaced by Matt Guokas. The team, still led by Malone and Erving and a budding star named Charles Barkley, continued its run as one of the NBA's elite, finishing with a 54-28 mark in '85-86. The GMs were John Nash, 1986-90, Shue 1990-92, and Jim Lynam 1992-94. More recent successes have included the 1989-90 Atlantic Division title (under Lynam), the club's 2,000th franchise victory on December 13, 1994, over the Miami Heat, and the exciting playoff runs in both 1998-99 and 1999-00. John Lucas was hired as head coach and general manager on June 14, 1994. The sale of the club from Katz to Comcast Corp. and Pat Croce was approved by the NBA on April 24, 1996. Brad Greenberg was named general manager on May 8, 1996. Johnny Davis replaced Lucas as coach June 10, 1996. Larry Brown was named coach on May 5, 1997. Billy King was promoted to General Manager on May 19, 1998.

The Sixers returned to the NBA Finals in 2001 for the first time since 1983. The team also captured its first Atlantic Division title since 1990 and the first Eastern Conference crown since 1983. That same season, with Allen Iverson being named MVP, Aaron McKie Sixth Man of the Year, Dikembe Mutombo Defensive Player of the Year and Larry Brown Coach of the Year, the Sixers became the first team to win four major awards in a single season.

CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, New Jersey, won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on August 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

HISTORY OF 76ERS GENERAL MANAGERS

The 76ers didn't have a general manager after the team debuted in Philadelphia in May 1963. Attorney Ike Richman performed some of the duties of the job between 1963 and 1966, but it wasn't until Jack Ramsay was named to the position in 1966-67 that the team had a GM. He maintained that job until 1970-71 when Don DeJardin took over. He was succeeded by Pat Williams who kept the post through 1986. John Nash took over 1986-90, then Gene Shue 1990-92, Jim Lynam 1992-94, John Lucas 1994-96 and Brad Greenberg in the 1996-97 season. No one had the title in 1997-98 with Larry Brown and Billy King performing the duties. In the summer of 1998, Pat Croce promoted King to general manager.

Billy King reintroduces center Todd MacCulloch and forward Keith Van Horn to the media on Aug. 7, 2002. The pair was acquired from New Jersey in exchange for Dikembe Mutombo.

LOGO AND UNIFORM HISTORY

1999 – PRESENT
In 1999-00, the 76ers unveiled a hot new second road uniform that's a mix of the old and the new. The jersey sports a stylish new cut in the color blue that's full of tradition from the great Sixers teams of the 60s and 70s. The Sixers will wear both editions of their road uniforms throughout the season.

1997 – PRESENT
The Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. This marked the inaugural season in franchise history that the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the team's road jersey features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.

1994 – 97 (64-182)
This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured "SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991 – 94 (86-160)
The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978 – 91 (679-387)
The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

1977 – 78 (55-27)
The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

LOGO AND UNIFORM HISTORY

1976-77 (50-32)
Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76 (144-266)
SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

1970-71 (47-35)
With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers' next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turn-around times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70 (227-100)
The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66 (55-25)
A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65 (74-86)
The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform. Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

76ERS DRAFT SELECTIONS

76 DRAFTED PLAYERS MAKE ROSTER

Since the 76ers first draft in 1964 through the 2001 draft, 76 players picked played at least one game for the team! The best year was 1973 when seven players (Doug Collins, Mike Bantom, Allan Bristow, George McGinnis, Caldwell Jones, Harvey Catchings and Rod Freeman) played for the 76ers at some point in their careers. The worst year was 1991 when the team's lone pick, second rounder Alvaro Teheran, didn't make it. In 1988 no draftees made it, but the Sixers had a pre-draft deal with the LA Clippers to pick Charles Smith and trade him the same day for Hersey Hawkins who was the sixth pick in the draft. In 1997, only Kebu Stewart made it. Marko Milic never played before being traded. Anthony Parker and Tim Thomas were drafted by New Jersey and traded to 76ers for draftee Keith Van Horn. In 1998, both Larry Hughes and Casey Shaw played for the Sixers, while 1999 draftee Todd MacCulloch saw action that season. In 2001, all three draft picks, Samuel Dalembert, Damone Brown and Alvin Jones played in 2001-02.

76ERS BANNER YEAR ON THE ROAD

The 76ers of 1976-77 (632,994) were the biggest road attraction in NBA history until 1984-85 (in 1995-96, 1996-97, and 1997-98 Chicago sold out every road game). They drew 33 sellouts in 41 outings for a 15,439 average. In Buffalo they drew the largest opening crowd in the Braves' history two days after Julius Erving was signed. They drew the largest crowd of the year in Kansas City and the two largest in New Orleans including a then record-breaking 27,383. Only in Buffalo, Kansas City and the Nets did they fail to have any sellouts. The 76ers smallest road crowd was 8,792 at Buffalo in a rescheduled snowed-out game. Their only other crowd under 10,938 was a 9,633 total in their first game with the Nets. They also had sellouts in all nine road playoff games to wind up an unparalleled record in the league's history at that time.

OVER ONE MILLION FANS SEE SIXERS AT HOME

In 2000-01, the Sixers drew one million fans (1,077,287) at home for the first time in the club's history during the team's 2001 run to the NBA Finals.

HOME RECORDS IN 2002

For the first time in the team's history, the 76ers drew 20,000-plus to every game at the First Union Center during the 2001-02 season. The club also set franchise marks for sellouts (25), average (20,560) and total attendance (842,776).

The 76ers have set attendance records each of the last five seasons. Much of this success can be attributed to inventive giveaways, including the Allen Iverson Celebriduck, given away on Jan. 11, 2002.
